

DSP Insurance Programme

First-class cover for Delivery Service Partners

Aon is one of the largest insurance brokers in the world. With our insurance programme developed exclusively for Delivery Service Partners (DSP), we can offer you the exact cover you need right now.

Recommended

The following three insurances provide important basic protection for Delivery Service Partners:

Motor insurance

Compulsory third-party motor insurance for damage caused to others by your vehicle.

There's also fully comprehensive cover (including partially comprehensive) for damage to your own vehicle, plus GAP insurance to cover a potential financing gap.

Public liability insurance

Important protection against losses such as those caused while delivering parcels.

The cover includes carelessness and other minor negligence. Unfounded claims for compensation are also rejected.

Freight forwarder's liability/cargo insurance

Protection against claims for compensation under the contract of carriage (e.g. loss of or damage to goods).

And also for financial loss (e.g. consequential loss).

Optional

Want more cover for your work as an DSP? We recommend the following:

Legal protection insurance

Protection for road-users and drivers as an important extension to third-party motor insurance.

So – if you lose your licence due to speeding, for example – you can check what your legal options are and make the most of them.

Group accident insurance

Financial protection in the form of a lump-sum or an annuity if you're injured in an accident.

Unlike statutory accident insurance, this includes personal accidents outside work!
